What is ALICE?

ALICE is an acronym for Asset Limited, Income Constrained, Employed. ALICE households earn above the Federal Poverty Level but are unable to afford the basics in the communities where they live.

Unlike the Federal Poverty Level (FPL) and Consumer Price Index, ALICE data are localized to each community and based on essentials that low-income households prioritize (view the full list below). This data is compiled into a county-level Survival Budget.*

Need across Communities

According to the Federal Poverty Level in 2024, 9.5% of Southeast Minnesota* households struggle with poverty. However, this does not account for the 23.5% of households – more than twice as many – that face financial hardship. Across Southeast Minnesota, 32% of households are under the ALICE threshold –meaning they're unable to cover unexpected costs such as car repairs, medical emergencies, or changes in scheduled work hours.

United Way of Southeast Minnesota envisions a region where every person has the opportunity to earn a sustainable income, support their family, and build long-term financial security. Within our four-county service area, Fillmore County has a higher share of households living below the ALICE threshold than the regional average. While counties like Olmsted and Winneshiek, Iowa report lower ALICE rates compared to Southeast Minnesota overall, continued investment and collaboration are essential to advancing financial stability and resilience across our region.
